Ross remove the clouds

Under a grey Gloucestershire sky, reflecting the sombre mood of the team, Ross Men's 1st XI took on Gloucester City D team in the N4 Financial Solutions Gloucester and Hereford League 2. With squad jester James Adamson no longer able to be with us, the funereal pace of Ross' first half performance was undoubtedly also influenced by the sad passing of midfield dynamo Adrian Williams this week.

Nonetheless, it was still Ross that took the lead, with James Brown seizing on a loose ball in the opposition D to slot home. Once again, Ross had its stoic defence to thank for its half-time superiority, with Brian Clare, Tim Jones, Edward Peck and Greg Weston not allowing the home side a single shot on goal.

Ross perked up in the second period, with Adamson's spirit – if not his oranges – coursing through the players' veins. Sam Warner cracked home a short corner before Tom Walton hammered in a third. To their credit, Gloucester tried to come back from the dead, only to be frustrated by the almost beyond this world dexterity of Andy Ridgway. As the midfield supremacy was re-asserted by Williams, Richard Jennison, Andy Cross, Kristian Franklin, striker Richard Harbottle was able to add a fourth goal in the dying minutes following another creative piece of skill from Phil Evans.

With another win - and top spot in the table maintained – this was a successful outcome to a somewhat subdued performance. Andy Ridgway was chosen as South Hereford Motorcaravan Centre Man of the Match because he told his colleagues that he should be.
