In a change from our usual diatripe, I have lifted the match report from Lansdown Hockey Club to better reflect this week's abandoned league fixture.

The mighty 4th's travelled down to Monmouth to face Ross-on-Wye on a day that could be best described as moist. Upon crossing the border into the land of shepards and dragons, the skies unleashed a torrent of rain that made going tough, we haven't even started the match yet! We arrived and things did not look good the ladies match on before us was splashing around a pitch that was not draining, wet tops, tick, cold weather, tick.

We got ready and even before the match started, we discuss if it should go ahead, as balls in the warm up were only travelling 5 yards when hit, but stand in captain, Niall "the cat" Hyndman, the umpires and their captain thought we should try. Idiots.

So the first half was tricky rain lashing down both teams were evenly matched, except the midfield were Will "the eel" Carr made a mockery of all trying to stop him. For both teams the only problem was attacking the final third where the water logged pitch stopped the ball dead, making both keepers rushing backs, having to kick out balls that on a normal day would have flown off the pitch. We had a couple of shorts but the lake made it near impossible to do anything with the ball, even hitting an open net for Will Ganniclift proved to much, not his fault though.

The opposition closed the half the strongest with two shorts, the first was saved off the cats' stick and knee and the second, a very scrappy affair, which resulted in their goal, Grahame in goal was unlucky as he had been working well and hard.

Half time, a short break with Nemo and Dory entertaining the masses

The second half started with more water on the pitch and a Ross attacker being tripped, he slid some distance and got a 9.5 from the judges, this lead to the Captains and Umpires having a brief chat and ending the game, best call though not all happy, the following match was cancelled affirming our decision. So a rematch at some point which we will win, if not Will Ganniclift has agreed to shave his head.

Man of the Match- The Eel
